OUR MANUFACTURER PARTNER

Raimi coconut charcoal is a leading Indonesian manufacturer and exporter of 100% coconut shell charcoal briquettes. We manage the entire production process — from selecting, cleaning, and carbonizing raw coconut shells to final briquetting, drying, and packaging — ensuring consistent quality at every stage.

Our production facilities are strategically located across Indonesia's major coconut regions: Sumatra, Java, and Sulawesi. We offer bulk shipments worldwide and can produce briquettes in any shape or size, with fully customized packaging based on your design preferences.

To maintain the highest standards, we produce most of our own charcoal and work only with trusted suppliers of premium-grade material. This guarantees high fixed carbon, low ash, and excellent performance.
